

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for it runs on trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. It allowed to run on, the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health restored. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S. is a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Y. L. AND Y. M. I. A. CONFERENCE HELD SUNDAY

The quarterly conference of the Y. L. and Y. M. I. A. was held in the Tabernacle last evening, under the direction of President Henry A. Anderson.

The meeting was opened by the congregation singing "O, Ye Mountains High." The opening prayer was offered by President John V. Bluth, after which D. Parsowh sang "Resignation."

The next speaker, Mary E. Conley, the editor of the Young Ladies' Journal, expressed her great pleasure in the work being done by the association. In the stake and urged the young people to study themselves that they might understand how to resist temptation. She also said that we should not only think of our own pleasures but to do good unto others. Through her talk she spoke of the joy of being pure in heart, of following the teachings of Christ.

Following Mrs. Conley's talk the congregation was favored with a violin solo, "Cavatina," by Walter Ziemer, played with fine touch and expression.

Mrs. Martha Tingey, general president of the Y. L. and Y. M. I. A., then spoke briefly and congratulated the officers of the Y. L. and Y. M. I. A. on the good work done by them, and hoped that they would continue in the same way. She further said that it took the individual work of each member to make a success of any organization. She also spoke of the summer course of instruction and told the young people to be careful during the summer season of amusements and not to indulge in them too much.

The next number was a solo, "Jesus Therefore, etc.," from "Lazarus," sung by Miss Maud Belnap.

Alfred J. Higgs, general secretary of the Y. M. I. A., then spoke at length of the work done by the organization. He stated that he had been much interested in the program of the day and complimented the presidency of the stake for their interest in the work, and also for the efficient corps of officers in the organization. He also spoke of the benefits obtained by partaking of the good influence of good men and good books, and also how injurious it is to associate with evil persons and to read evil publications. He further said that it is the intention of the board to recommend a series of good books which he hoped the young people would read carefully.

Mrs. McFarland, president of the Y. L. and Y. M. I. A., thanked the visitors for their presence and their good words. There was a very good attendance at the services and all were doubtless much benefited. After singing "Doxology" and the benediction by Miss Kate Tolhurst, the conference was adjourned.

Samuel F. Whitaker presided at the organ, and Caleb Marriott conducted the singing.

The pulpit and stand were beautifully decorated with palms and peonies.

A great many people brighten their polished floors by wiping them, once or twice a month, with a cloth dipped in milk.

A better way is to use Ivory Soap and lukewarm water. Apply with a soft cloth. Use very little water. Wipe dry with another soft cloth. By following this method, you clean your floors as well as brighten them.

NEWHOUSE BOOSTS OGDEN

WILL DO ALL HE CAN TO BRING CAPITAL TO OGDEN.

Condition Is That $500,000 Be Raised For Erection of Capitol Building.

Salt Lake is considerably disturbed over the announcement made here Sunday by Sam Newhouse, to the effect that if the people of Ogden will demonstrate their ability and willingness to contribute a half-million dollars for a capitol, he will give his hearty support to the proposition of changing the capital to this city.

Secretary Reynolds of the Weber club was called out of his bed after midnight by the representative of a leading Salt Lake newspaper and requested to verify the dispatches which were sent out from here during the night, quoting the unexpected and somewhat startling statement by the big financier.

Secretary Reynolds informed his questioners that he would allow Mr. Newhouse to do his own talking, but at the same time he left the inference that the dispatches were true in every detail.

Samuel Newhouse spent yesterday afternoon in Ogden. He was accompanied by Colonel John C. Montgomery and Hon. George W. Baxter. They arrived early in the afternoon and went immediately to the Weber club, where they took luncheon, being the guests of Horace and Harold Peery.

Later they took an automobile for Ogden canyon points, where they remained until early evening. It was admitted that the purpose of their trip to Ogden was the investigation of local details concerning a monster irrigation project in this vicinity. Two years ago Samuel Newhouse bought a site in Weber canyon which was considered to have all the natural advantages for a reservoir, and also purchased right of way for a high-line canal, which would supply an abundance of water to many thousands of acres of land while it is being used to a disadvantage in dry farming. The site is said to have cost Mr. Newhouse $75,000 cash.

Since the original purchase nothing was done until about two months ago, when Mr. Newhouse invited Colonel Montgomery to make him a visit and investigate the property. Colonel Montgomery responded immediately and made his first visit to the site two months ago, at which time he stated that it would require further attention, which he would give on his return from the Pacific coast. Yesterday he returned, being accompanied by former Senator George W. Baxter of New Jersey, and with Mr. Newhouse took a trip to Weber canyon. Both Colonel Montgomery and former Senator Baxter are considered to be the best of authority on irrigation matters, and while they seemed elated over the prospect of the affair, declined to give out a statement of their ideas, preferring, evidently, to go into the matter thoroughly before saying anything.

While at the Weber club the question of locating the state capital at Ogden came up, and when Mr. Newhouse was asked for his view of the matter he said:

"Gentlemen of Ogden—If you will show me some evidence that you can raise $500,000 for the erection of a capitol building with all my heart and soul I will do everything within my power to bring the capital to Ogden."

This statement, coming from a man so well known in Utah, a man who has done perhaps more than any other individual or corporation toward the upbuilding and material progress of the state, cannot be taken lightly, and must be considered as the greatest boost this city has yet received in her fight for the state capital.

After their return from their trip to Ogden canyon, Colonel Montgomery and former Senator Baxter got aboard the Overland en route to New York. After seeing them off on their train Mr. Newhouse returned to Ogden canyon, where he gave a dinner party, at which were the following guests:

Miss MacDale and Mrs. Irvine of Salt Lake, Miss Pettijohn and Miss Pointhester of Kansas City, Miss Dusenberry of Provo, Mrs. D. H. Peery, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Peery, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Peery and Harmon Peery.

Mr. Newhouse was charmed with the canyon, and announced his intention of taking a cottage in the vicinity of Idlewild and spending at least a part of the summer there.

SEASON FOR GAME FISH WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY

Salt Lake, June 13.—The trout season opens Tuesday morning. The rush on the sporting goods and hardware stores last night told of many parties leaving today and Monday for the fishing grounds. Monday night a regular procession of fishermen will leave the city in every kind of a conveyance. Not only will there be things offered in trout, but the bass in Utah lake and in the other good fishing spots will be fair play and a big day is at hand.

Reports from the streams and lakes show that there are plenty of game fish this year. There will be only one bad feature for the opening day; the streams are still cloudy with mud and the selection of flies will give plenty of chance for close guessing. The water is clearing fast, however, and within a week should be clear. The demand for licenses has been heavy and the new regulations of the game laws have met with the hearty support of all true fishermen.

Game Commissioner Chambers has his new force in working order and a strict enforcement of the law is the rule.

SALT LAKE AND STATE NEWS

BRUTAL ATTACK MADE UPON MAN

Salt Lake, June 13.—It is dangerous to talk about W. W. Finn and his management at the fair grounds.

One of the most unprovoked assaults in the police annals of the city was seen yesterday evening in front of the Cullen hotel, when W. W. Finn, general manager of the Utah Jockey club, struck Tom F. Rooney, a local newspaper man. After delivering two blows to the face, Finn continued the brutal assault by kicking Rooney in the stomach.

W. H. Gleason, promoter and treasurer of the jockey club, was holding Rooney at the time of the last assault. Finn was dragged away by Associate Judge Jay Davidson, with whom Rooney had been talking. A warrant charging Finn with assault will be sworn out Monday.

The affair was the outcome of the gang rule applied at the fair grounds yesterday, when James Hanby, press representative of the Butte Jockey club; Sam Klein, a bookmaker, and George Williams, his clerk, were ordered from the grounds. The reasons given for the rulings was that the men named were alleged to have made statements that they could not prove which reflected upon the name of the Utah Jockey club management. Also that they were influencing the local reports as to the "things" that went on at the track. At the same time Tom Rooney was warned to "keep still" or he, too, would be ousted.

Returning from the races, Mr. Rooney was standing in front of the Cullen hotel talking to Judge Jay Davidson, when Finn, followed by Gleason, suddenly approached him and demanded if he, Rooney, had "anything on him."

Mr. Rooney had both his hands akimbo as Finn, followed by Gleason, approached, and was taken completely by surprise. Mr. Rooney replied: "Why, Mr. Finn, I don't care to discuss a matter of this kind on the public streets. It's no place to argue."

Without a sign or a word of warning, Finn let fly his right arm and planted two stinging blows on the newspaperman. Before Mr. Rooney could recover from his surprise, Davidson, who was standing close by, grabbed Finn about the shoulders. Gleason, who was close behind his general manager, jumped into the breach between the newspaper man and his general manager and interfered with any retaliation by the newspaper man.

While still clasped in the arms of Davidson, Finn reached out with a vicious kick and planted his shoe in the abdomen of Rooney.

Finn weighs close to 200 pounds, while Mr. Rooney weighs about 140 pounds and is a comparative invalid, having come west for his health.

Finn was hurried off by Davidson, while Gleason, the backer and financier of the carpet-bag meeting, remained behind to vilify the newspaper man for his criticism of the running of the horses at the fair grounds meeting.

The ruling against James Hanby, made because he was causing the local newspapers to mention the "things" that went on at the track, met with a good laugh from the sporting writers who have been "covering" the races. Mr. Hanby has a signed statement from all of the local newspaper men saying in connection:

"We might add that his (Hanby's) views at which the officials found fault were unanimously concurred in."

The real reason for enforcement of the gag rule against Mr. Hanby and Mr. Rooney is personal spite on the part of Finn and further against Mr. Hanby because he is signing up horses for the Butte meeting.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' AUTHORITY OVER ROADS.

Salt Lake City, June 13.—County commissioners should appoint the county road commissioners, according to an opinion given yesterday by Albert R. Barnes, attorney general, on request of R. W. King, attorney for Millard county. The attorney general's opinion follows:

"In regard to the collection of road poll tax under the provisions of chapter 119 of the laws of Utah, 1909, chapter 2, title 64 of the compiled laws of Utah, 1907, are expressly repealed. Chapter 119 of the laws of Utah, 1909, became effective on May 11, and the repeal of chapter 2, title 30, compiled laws of Utah, 1907, became effective at that time."

"In my opinion the county commissioners should appoint a county road commissioner as provided by this act, and, further, the office of road supervisor is now abolished. It is, of course, impossible for the county road commissioner to comply strictly with the provisions of section 7 of chapter 118. I do not think, however, that the giving of the notice required in section 7 is a necessary preliminary to the collection of the tax, and I think that the tax may be collected and should be collected even though such notice has not been given."

I would suggest, however, that a notice might be given at this time, and the collection made under such notice."

RAISING CARP ON FLOODED FARMS.

Provo, June 13.—W. H. Ray returned today from Benjamin, where he holds a mortgage on a farm that is four feet under water. When he called to see the mortgagee he found him rounding up the herd of carp on the farm. Soon the fish were ready for market and although the farm was planted to beets and alfalfa, which have been inundated for the past several days, it is expected that the returns from the carp industry will be sufficient to raise the indebtedness.
